Looking at your results from Activity 4 "My entrepreneurial traits", and comparing them to "rating the traits by entrepreneur" Activity 3, do you feel you have the qualities to be an entrepreneur? How comfortable would you be being an entrepreneur?

Being an entrepreneur takes strong will and desire. I'm a person who has strong will and desire. I feel I would be an excellent entrepreneur, because I have most of the qualities to be one. For example, I'm very self-reliant and love to be competitive. If I were an entrepreneur I'd be more than comfortable. Entrepreneurs work for themselves and I would love to do that.

Looking over my results I believe that I would make a pretty decent entrepreneur. As I was looking over my results and comparing them to the Activity 3 Sheet I had more similarities than differences for "Most Important". I ~~had~~ only had two of the Moderates on my part. I barely had any high level for the least important. Overall I could do good if I improved more.

I wouldn't be a entrepreneur.
The reason is, is because i am not comfortable. i do not have the traits. i do not have patience and im too shy to open up to employees. self confidence isn't on my side either. leading a big group of people is hard and i wouldn't be able to handle it.
Most of this stuff causes stress
and im better off without it.
therefore i do not consider myself being an entrepreneur.

My Entrepreneurial traits would suggest that im a ~~good~~ good ~~fantasy~~ candidate for being an entrepreneur. I would also like to back ~~to~~ myself up by stating that im an overachiever in many aspects, I like to strive for what I think I can achieve. If I ~~believe~~ believe I can achieve something I will do my absolute best to go for it. ~~with~~ Within the next few years I would love to start my own business/Shop, I hope that in the next few years I can learn more about my business and see what I can improve about myself to make this a ~~real~~ reality. I have alot of ~~per~~ perseverance in me to make my dream a reality. Some goals are ~~at~~ out of reach, but if you reach far enough you'll soon have it.

After looking at the results from both activities and comparing them I believe I do have an above average number of traits that would be needed to be an entrepreneur. But I'm missing a couple that I believe would be vital to any entrepreneur. The desire to create and innovativeness. I personally don't believe I'm creative enough to be comfortable as an entrepreneur.

I think I would be pretty good at being an entrepreneur, I matched with a few of them which is cool, ~~but it's~~ but it's still not good enough. I think an entrepreneur should have the desire to create and the ability to get along with the employees. If you don't have the desire to create, you don't have an imagination and if you can't get along with your employees, how will you have a stable workplace? have a good relationship with the people you work with so you can get the best outcome. I may have gotten a few things the same but it won't make me a great entrepreneur.

I do feel like I have the qualities to become an entrepreneur. Although, some of the traits that are recommended I kind of lack, however, a little guidance can help me get back up there. I'd probably be a little ~~uncomfortable~~ uncomfortable as an entrepreneur due to the fact im sort of anti-social.

I do feel like I am qualified to become an entrepreneur. I have the skills and mindset as one. I'm very competitive and always want to have the edge when competing with others. I like to overthink and I want to create an atmosphere when every employee is happy with their job, pay, and how they are treated.

I feel I'm somewhat entrepreneurial. There are some traits that I have and some I lack. I lack a high level of energy sometimes which could put holes in other traits like perseverance or not having a desire to create. Other than this, I feel that I'm entrepreneurial to an extent for now.

Yes I do feel like I have the qualities to be an entrepreneur. I believe this because I marked all the skills they have is most important. I also believe this because of my work effort I do anything I put my mind to. I think starting off I would be a little uncomfortable, but once I get the hang of it I think I would be great.
